TRANSITION

We left Woodward and Bernstein's overview of Richard Nixon on a rug in the White House with Henry Kissinger shortly before August 8, 1974, when then President Nixon resigned.

Now we join Doris Kearns, biographer to President Lyndon Johnson, as she listens to the 36th President, at LBJ Ranch tucked into bed covers upto his chin, describe the most private fears and anxieties of his "Vietnam and metroplexed" presidency.

Kearns' book, "Lyndon Johnson and the American Dream," is appearing June 2 from the presses of Harper & Row, New York City. It is based on personal conversations between Kearns and the late President over a five-year period in Washington and Texas.

Excerpts already have appeared in May and June issues of "The Atlantic Monthly" and "McCalls." A series of two articles excerpted from Woodward and Bernstein's "The Final Days" have appeared in Newsweek.

The pattern is clear. We are getting things down to the most personal nit in journals which once were shelved for half a century or until all the major figures had died.

Mr. Johnson's problem after John Kennedy's assassination was "the Bobby Problem." The adversary relationship of the Texan and the murdered President's brother was not even ended when the Senator, later to be felled by an assassin in California, went to the White House to show support for Johnson's unexpected rejection of a second term effort in 1968.

After the second Kennedy death, Miss Kearns quotes President Johnson saying: "It would have been hard on me to watch Bobby march to 'Hail to the Chief' but I almost wish he had become President so the country could finally see a flesh-and-blood Kennedy grappling with the daily work of the Presidency and all the inevitable disappointments, instead of their storybook image of great heroes who, because they were dead, could make anything anyone wanted happen."

It develops that Mr. Johnson identified Miss Kearns with his dead mother. "It talking with me, he (Johnson) had come to imagine he was also talking with her, unraveling the story of his life," Miss Kearns writes in this "Book-of-the-Month Club" selection.

The incredible weight of a transition presidency which also befell Richard Nixon's abbreviated tenure went with Johnson to his grave.

Quotes Kearns: "I (Johnson) saw how long the war was taking. I knew what it was doing to my Great Society programs. But all that horror, as horrible as it was, and I hated it more than anyone--do you know what it's like to feel responsible for the deaths of men you love?--well that horror was acceptable if it prevented the far worse horror of World War III."

Bobby Kennedy was a champion of a settlement with Vietnam. He may have adventurously opposed John Kennedy's position on Vietnam, which some have said was due to change after his fatal visit to Dallas. It was John Kennedy's Secretary of Defense, McNamara, who stayed on with Johnson, who coined the word "escalate" only to go from hawk to dove within a year after "escalation" failed. Besides other revelations of the Johnson Years in the White House, the book finds the echo of Johnson's seeing Vietnam short of nuclear war (WW III) resounded in the Nixon "de-escalation," Vietnam pullout and historic efforts at detente with Moscow and Peking.

Perhaps, as Miss Kearns writes, we see an enormously political ego elevated to the Presidency hoping to justify decisions which seemed to fall Mr. Johnson even during the first Nixon term.

Quoting again, Miss Kearns says Mr. Johnson rejected discussion of earlier opportunities for peace, shouting: "No, no! I will not let you take me backward in time in Vietnam. Fifty thousand American boys are dead."

This is an important book, not only for a post-White House portrait of Johnson, but for insights into the motivation of a Lyndon Johnson who knew he had a weak heart and a few years to live.

Writes Kearns: "Johnson had believed that power was something you obtained if you had the energy and drive to work harder than anyone else. Power, in turn, made good works possible, and good works brought love and gratitude."

As the 36th Presidency began to disintegrate, Miss Kearns writes that Johnson saw "the rejection of his good works" as an "absolute rejection of himself."

The tragic years of transition from John Kennedy's assassination to Richard Nixon's resignation leave the 36th and 37th Presidents, the two most powerful men in history, obsessed with failure.

According to Miss Kearns, these years leave Lyndon Johnson in his December looking to his young biographer as a surrogate mother. And according to Woodward and Bernstein, these years leave Richard Nixon in his September asking Secretary of State Kissinger to pray with him over Watergate.

We are not sure whether such stuff is poignant or maudlin. But the intimate detail of historic decline and despond waits for no historian. It is in the magazine rack and on the best seller list.

Are we not reading Greek tragedy and Shakespearean drama of our own time?

Rockdale Makes Profit, Mayor Tells Ambulance Study Group

The City of Rockdale turned a $6,000 profit on its ambulance service in the period between October 1975 and April 1976, according to Rockdale Mayor N. E. Alford.

The fact was brought out at a meeting of Milam mayors and civic leaders from other towns called to discuss the problem of ambulance service to the north part of the county.

HUD Approves Housing Program For Cameron

The Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) has notified the Cameron Housing Authority that a Section 8 housing program has been approved for the city of Cameron.

A total of 61 units has been approved in the program which will be administered by the local Housing Authority.

Details of the program will be made public as soon as they are received from HUD. Paul Olbrich, Housing Authority director, said it will be a few months before the program actually goes into effect, following announcement of the approval.

Olbrich said the program is one of rent assistance, with approved applicants receiving rent subsidies from the federal government.

He gave this example of how the program will work: A person who draws $200 a month in social security funds would pay $50 a month on a $115-a-month dwelling, with the government supplying $65 a month to make up the rent.

Olbrich said he would release details for applicants at a later date.

County Funds Museum, Showbarn

County commissioners met in a called meeting at 1 p.m. Monday to amend the division of revenue sharing funds, open bids on tax office forms, and hear a report on repairs to the old jail roof.

Commissioner Dalton Caffey offered an amendment to minutes of the last meeting which divided revenue sharing funds among the four precincts, to appropriate $6,000 for the Milam County show barn, and $2,000 for the proposed county museum. Miss Mary Belle Batte and Mrs. Kay Green of the county Historical Commission were on hand and expressed appreciation for the funds. However, Miss Batte asked if the salary for a custodian could be put in the county budget.

Mrs. Green said the museum committee is awaiting repairs to the old county jail roof so that estimates can be prepared on interior repairs.

County Judge O. B. Harden said that Manpower personnel will be employed to work on the building and grounds with the county furnishing the tools. Harden also said the Alcoa Foundation has expressed an interest in the museum project.

Bid on tax office forms and envelopes was awarded to The Rockdale Reporter on its low bid of $2,118.67.

Johnnie Graham of Milam told commissioners he had inspected the jail roof and a new roof is needed. He said it would be a difficult job, with labor costing more than materials. He was asked to draw up an estimate of costs for presentation at the next meeting.

Rockdale Man Charged With Armed Robbery

A charge of armed robbery was filed in Justice of the Peace Jess Brock's court Monday against Roy E. Freeman, 30, of Rockdale in connection with a robbery at the Brumelow Cafe in Davilla Friday night.

Freeman's bond was set at $5,000, but he is still in Temple's Veterans Administration Hospital suffering a gunshot wound in the back.

Ambris Brumelow, owner of the cafe, told the sheriff's department that the suspect walked into the cafe about 11:15 p.m. and told the people in the cafe to put their hands on the table and give him their money. He collected about $117 from the five or six people in the cafe.

Brumelow said he was asked for money and told the man he would have to get up to get it. Brumelow then jumped up and grabbed the pistol away from the man, shooting a hole in the ceiling in the scuffle. Witnesses said the man then fled the store and Brumelow fired two shots.

The Milam County Sheriff's Office, the Bartlett Police Department, and the Texas Highway Department searched for the man early Saturday.

A call was received by the sheriff's office at about 2 a.m. with a tip about the suspect. The sheriff arrested the man at about 2 a.m. Saturday two miles south of Davilla on FM 908. Freeman had suffered a gunshot wound in the back and was taken to the hospital.

Drive To Start On West Side; Contest Open

A city-wide cleanup drive has been set to begin June 2 on the west side of Cameron to be extended to other areas later, it was announced today.

The drive will be sponsored by the City of Cameron, the Civic Improvement Committee of the Cameron Area Chamber of Commerce, and the Community Development Agency.

The sponsors are seeking the cooperation of all citizens in getting their debris and trash out to the curbline where it will be picked up by city trucks.

Beginning on June 2, trucks will run on the west side of the city starting at Vogelsang Ave. Two trucks will work from Highway 36 to the north city limits, working across the east city limits.

Other schedules will be announced at a later date.

Citizens of West Cameron have a keen interest in the cleanup as a home improvement contest has been opened for that area, sponsored by Gene Blake of the Cameron Coca Cola Bottling Company and the CDA.

First place award will be $35 and second place $10 in three categories of judging in the beautification and improvement contest.

Members of the Beautification Committee have elected to award prizes for general neatness and attractiveness in three divisions: new homes, older homes, and rental homes.

Emphasis in the contest will be on improvements in the home and yard and the effect of the property's appearance on the surrounding area.

Contest committee members are Jan Luecke, chairman; Mildred Thornton, Julius Whiteside, Hattie Anderson, and Mrs. Robert McIntyre, set a deadline of June 1 for nominations in the contest with an award ceremony slated for June 13.

Boxes have been placed in each West Cameron church for nominations in the contest or individuals may place a nomination at the Community Development Agency, 112 E. 1.

Cameron Youth Accepted For Naval Academy

Joey Mondrik, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mondrik of Cameron, will attend the U. S. Naval Academy preparatory school at Newport, Rhode Island, with his classes starting in August.

Joey is a member of the Yoe High School graduating class of 1976. He received his appointment to the Naval Academy through Cong. W. R. Poage. Competition for entrance to the Naval Academy is extremely keen, both academically and athletically. All selectees have to be of the highest character and between the ages of 17 to 22 years old.

A Naval Academy midshipman has a choice of 24 academic majors, from literature to analytical management to aerospace engineering, each leading to the bachelor of science degree.

"The mission of the Naval Academy is to prepare young men morally, mentally, and physically to be professional officers in the Naval service," said Chief Navy Counselor Leo D. Butler of the Navy recruiting station in Temple, who assisted Mondrik in his application.

Incumbent Tide Rising...

We know a little more following six state primaries Tuesday, but nothing final.

We know Jimmy Carter is gaining more delegates and viable opposition in Frank Church and Jerry Brown in 11th hour entries.

We know President Ford is ahead about 130 delegates, but has to do well in California, and Ohio to avoid a GOP convention scrap for nomination in Kansas City.

Democrat Carter carried party primaries in Tennessee, Kentucky, and Arkansas. Church carried home-state Idaho and Oregon. Brown carried Nevada.

Republican Reagan carried GOP primaries in Idaho, Nevada and Arkansas, but lost Kentucky and Oregon to Ford and late Tuesday trailed him by 1 percentile in Tennessee.

Carter has more than 800 delegates, going for 900, trailed by Udall with 278, the only active candidate remotely close.

But Church notes and rightly after three wins in three primaries, midwest to west, that people, particularly in Oregon, are attuning themselves to issues as opposed to Carter's appeal for delegate support as front-runner.

Brown drew 17 percent of the Democratic vote on a week's write-in campaign. Carter had best get his 1,300 delegates by convention time or a first-ballot nomination will escape his candidacy.

His dominance in plurality votes outside the South shows organizational savvy comparable to the 1960 drive engineered by the "Irish Mafia" of the Kennedys.

But the ring is closing around the issueless Carter march for unity and nomination. If both Church and Brown continue to win going into the New York City convention, it suggests a coalition of Udall, uncommitted delegates, Church, Brown, and Jackson could halt Carter at the vice-presidency. There is no way he can be kept off the ticket.

Ford is doing better in the West and South than anticipated. Only California bulwarks Reagan against a rising incumbent tide.

Where The Money Is...

We hear considerable comment in friendly competition, most likely, but a set of figures of the 1976-77 Texas Almanac refutes the claim agriculture dominates economics in Milam County.

It is a primary source of income, but so are annual wages paid by industry and gross income in retail sales.

Texas Almanac notes Milam annual retail sales are $30.4 million, wages paid are $39.6 million, compared to a $32 million figure given for average annual farm income.

It is good to know all are in the "thirties" and that agriculture are still about 50 percent in terms of payroll vs. ag production sales.

We find it quite a healthy and compatible economy which is obviously growing all the time. But Milam County without industrial rejuvenation of the 1950s and 1960s would be a shell of what it is in economics, population, and development.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

CONSUMER GOUGED FROM NEW ANGLE

Rep. Frank Annunzio (Ill.)
The Nation's second largest bank (has) found a new angle from which to gouge the consumer's pocket-book.

First National City Bank of New York City has declared that it will begin charging an automatic 50-cent service charge of its Master Charge Customers each time they pay their bills within the first month after a purchase.

Shortly after Citibank's announcement, I strongly criticized the move in a public statement and said that unless the new fee is repealed by the bank, I will introduce legislation which not only would prohibit such charges but would also make it mandatory for businesses which accept credit cards to give discounts to customers using cash. At present, such discounts are allowed by the Fair Credit Billing Act Amendments but are not mandatory.

"I am upset with the bank's action because for years, Citibank has promoted its Master Charge accounts by telling consumer that if they pay their balances off promptly, they will not incur any charges. Approximately 350,000 account holders are paying their entire balances each month at the bank. But just like the spider who lured the fly into its parlor and then trapped it in its web, the bank has lured the customers into its credit card program with glossy promises and is now trying to collect extra fees.

"While the 50-cent charge may seem insignificant to individual cardholders, it represents a windfall profit to the bank and once the practice of the extra charge is established it will only be a matter of time before the 50 cent charge is increased to a much higher figure.

"The next step may well be a charge for customers who do not use their credit cards during any given month."

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

The credit card program is a convenience for the merchant; a convenience for the customer and profitable for the bank.

The bank charges the merchant a fee for performing the bookkeeping and the merchant passes the charge along to the customer in a small mark-up. Usually 5 percent. Past due accounts are charged a finance penalty of 18 percent per annum by the bank which is why the bank is in the credit card business in the first place. Citibank's attempt to charge an extra fee may just be a trial balloon to learn just how much the customer will tolerate.

Local merchants will undoubtedly resist any increase in bank charges.

Two Runoff Races Turn Into Tough Contests

Two runoff races on the June 5 Democratic ballot are turning into tough contests.

State Rep. Jon Newton, 35, of Beeville, and former Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler, 68, of Grapeland are attacking each other heavily in the Railroad Commission race.

Carl Dally, 52, of Houston is heating up his own campaign for the Court of Criminal Appeals against W. T. Phillips, 63, of Waco, although in a more-restrained, judicial key.

Newton hammers hard on Sadler's record as land commissioner in the 1960's. He notes Sadler put in less than fulltime at the job and was once investigated for having an employee of the land office working in a hotel at Palestine.

Newton also labels Sadler as a figure from the Great Depression, noting his opponent's 1939-1942 service on the Railroad Commission.

Sadler retaliates by terming Newton an "embryo energy expert," not yet born when he (Sadler) began his single term on the oil, gas and transportation regulatory agency. The former commissioner also dwells at length on

Newton's financial aid from oil industry representatives and recently claimed the young lawmaker once voted against investigation of the Sharpstown scandals.

Dally claims better qualifications than Phillips on strength of his service as a commissioner in aid to the court for five years and questions whether his opponent (who led in first primary voting) has been active in practicing criminal law during recent years.

Rules Set

Texas Public Utility Commission adopted new rules providing that utility companies cannot add late charges to homeowners' bills. "Net" as stated on monthly bills must reflect a true discount for early payment.

In return, companies were allowed to disconnect service for non-payment 20 days after a bill is sent out.

Other rules would make telephone companies refund money if telephones are out of order eight hours after faulty service is reported unless the trouble is caused by a disaster or the customer's own acts.

Persons over 65 would be exempt from utility deposits unless they owe money from two years back. Rules would also require the utilities to pay interest on deposit, and prohibit them from requiring deposits for home service where customers have a good record with similar connections and furnish evidence of a good credit rating or written guarantee of payment.

On the other hand, the commission allowed about $20 million in advertising expenditures and charitable contributions to be passed along to utility customers by companies.

Release Ordered

The State Insurance Board has been ordered by a district judge here to release its application for a $1.2 million federal grant to finance a plan to regulate hospital charges.

Atty. Gen. John Hill brought suit to make the document public.

AG Opinions

Attorney General Hill said the Department of Public Safety doesn't have to reveal the list it keeps of people who come and go at the Texas governor's mansion.

In other simultaneous interpretations of the open records act, Hill concluded:

- Names and addresses of burglary victims are public information.

- A city is not required to provide criminal records of drivers in driving while intoxicated arrests.

- A request to a sheriff for "any record your department has" on an individual should be rejected.

- A criminal history record is exempted from required public disclosure, but an individual can see his own record.

Dear editor:

The way the television analysts have it, the harder a candidate runs against Washington these days the more popular he is with the voters, but we don't want to over-do it and I hope Washington understands this is mostly just campaign talk.

For example, I doubt if there's a mayor or a county judge in the country who gets mad when Washington sends down another revenue-sharing check, unless it's smaller than the last one. Or show me a person over 65 who gets mad when Medicare pays his hospital bill. Where's the state highway department that gets mad because Washington is financing a large part of its roads? Where's the aircraft or railroad company because Washington is bailing it out? One way to make New York mad is to fail to renew its two billion dollar loan. And if Washington really wants to invoke the voters' rage, just stop Social Security.

OLD

Don't misunderstand me, I'm with the rest of the voters, I get mad at Washington myself, especially when I figure the other fellow is getting more from there than I am.

Outside of all the above and a few others, I've failed to mention I join the rest of the voters in saying Washington has got to buckle down, throw out the red tape, and cut out all this wild spending. Why have 2,000 different bureaus spending the tax payer's money when 100 could spend just as much?

Changing the subject, as I understand it, the government has charged that some big meat packers have been selling the army a cheap tough grade of beef, calling it a high grade with a high price, and cleaning up.

This sure relieves my mind. For a while there I thought maybe the army had got hold of one of my Jersey steers.

Yours faithfully,

Making Progress... Peachy Prospects... Hey, Hay.

Texas farmers are busy this week planting and harvesting crops. Wheat and flax harvest are in progress in southern areas of the state and planting of cotton is active in northern sections.

Rain did cause some delays in wheat harvest in the state, but now the crop has headed out and it varies in maturity from early bloom to hard dough stage. Yield prospects continue to be poor, although they are showing some improvement on the Low Plains. On the High Plains, only irrigated stands show promise of a normal crop.

Oat harvest is also underway, and many oats are being grazed out or baled for hay rather than harvested for grain due to poor yield prospects.

Flax harvest is active in South Texas as well as the Coastal Bend.

Cotton planting is in full swing, and the crop will be late for the most part in the Blacklands. Planting for the state is about a third finished, which is slightly below that of a year ago at this time.

Sorghum, another major crop for the state, is making excellent progress in the southern half of the state. Some replanting was necessary in the south central regions due to rains.

Planting for the state is more than two-thirds complete, which is also slightly above last year's pace.

While the 1976 crop is still being planted, the final figures on the 1975 crop are in, and Texas continues to be the leading cotton producing state in the nation.

The 1975 crop was only 2,382,000 bales; this is the smallest crop since 1946 when production slipped to 1,669,000 bales. Harvested acres in 1975 were down 11 per cent, making it the smallest acreage since 1967. But the dollar value of the crop showed a 22 per cent gain over 1974. Prices averaged about 10 cents a pound higher in 1975 than in 1974.

Cottonseed prices, however, were down 24 per cent from the 1974 price levels.

PEACH PROSPECTS APPEAR PLUMBY PEACHY for most of the state. The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service predicts a 31 per cent increase in peach production for the state this year compared to a year ago.

The crop condition varies throughout the state. A good fruit crop is being harvested in South Texas. Good crops were also set in the Cross Timbers and eastern sections.

PROSPECTS FOR HAY have increased considerably due to recent rains. As of May 1 hay stocks on farms and ranches throughout the state are up 47 per cent from a year ago.

Range and pasture conditions have also improved considerably across the state.

The Blacklands and South Texas are in good condition, with other areas of the state ranging from very poor to fair.

TEXAS 1876

DALLAS — The carrying of pistols is getting to be, here of late, altogether too frequent and demands increased vigilance on the part of officers of the law and some examples to be made. As this is not a besieged stockade in the Indian country, nor is there likely to be any sudden massacre of the people by a mob, where the sense is of men going about armed is a mystery.

Cotton In Greater Demand By Consumers This Year

RALEIGH

Cotton is in greater demand by U. S. consumers this year than in any year since 1972, according to statistics recently compiled by Cotton Incorporated and other trade observers.

The statistics point to a banner year for cotton, says David Cox, vice-president of economic research and development for Cotton Incorporated, the fiber company of U. S. cotton producers.

Cox points to three indicators that cotton is enjoying a vigorous boom at the retail level:

(1) An analysis by Cotton Incorporated of data compiled by the Market Research Corp. of America shows that for 12 months in a row cotton has outgained synthetics in pounds sold at retail as compared to sales in the same month of the previous year. Those gains reverse a 15-year trend in which synthetics had surpassed cotton.

(2) The U. S. Department of Agriculture projects that domestic mill use of cotton at 7.3 million bales for the 1975-76 cotton crop year, which ends July 31. This compared with 5.9 million bales used in the 1974-75 crop year. The USDA also says that imports of cotton goods have been running at a record annual rate in order to meet consumer demand for cotton.

(3) The National Cotton Council says that for the first three months of 1976 cotton increased its share of the total fiber market to 30.8 percent, a level greater than cotton's annual market share for the last three years.

"All these data indicate that the consumer wants cotton and is buying cotton," says Cox.

"The increased level of cotton textile imports is direct evidence that apparel manufacturers and distributors find cotton a hot item at the retail level," Cox adds.

Cox reports that the most dramatic increase in textile imports has been in cotton print cloth and cotton sheeting, which are used primarily for apparel. Those imports are more than three times the level of July 1975, Cox says.

"The reason for these increased imports is more than a result of any price differential. It is because of a lack of domestically made fabric of the construction needed to meet consumer demand."

"If domestic mills respond more fully to the strong consumer demand for cotton, USDA analysis shows that domestic demand for cotton will total 8 to 8.5 million bales on an annual basis. In the meantime, total demand for U. S. cotton is growing," says Cox. USDA estimates that if imports of fabric and finished goods were not so high, domestic textile mill consumption of cotton would run 7.7 million bales for 1975-76.

Cox sees the bullish cotton sales as more than just a flash in the pan.

County Agent's Notes

Cold Wet Soil Slowing Cotton

By Billy M. McCutchen

May is almost gone and according to the soil temperature cotton planting time isn't here yet. Cold, wet soils have caused farmers to have real problems in getting stands of cotton with many fields replanted and some replanted twice.

Figuring land preparation, herbicide, treated seed, and very little for labor, you can figure about $45 per acre to put in a cotton crop one time and another $8 to $10 every time it is replanted.

With out-of-pocket costs like this cotton farmers had better make a crop and it had better be worth 50¢ a pound or better.

A lot of cotton remained to be planted in the Buckholts and Burlington areas of the county as of May 20. Most were going to go ahead with planting intentions if they could get cotton in before June.

WHEAT HARVEST

The wheat harvest has started and crop prospects look pretty good. There is some of the best wheat around that I have seen in the county, but prices may put the damper on much enthusiasm.

The $4 per bushel contracts offered last fall look quite good now as the local market will probably open below $3.50.

SPRAY PECANS

It's time to spray for the pecan nut casebearer. Cool, damp weather has slowed and continued to delay spraying dates and the egg lay out applications between May 22 and May 28 should do a good job.

If cool, damp weather persists it may be necessary to make a second application about 7 to 10 days after your initial casebearer spraying.

Be sure to include a fungicide such as Benlate or Du-Ter for pecan scab and Zinc Sulphate for pecan roette. You can accomplish three jobs with one application.

PAUL VACULIN

Vaculin Joins SCS As Student Trainee

Paul Vaculin will be working as a student trainee with the Soil Conservation Service this summer.

Paul is a 1974 honor graduate of Yoe high and is now a junior student at Texas A&M University majoring in agronomy.

While working during the summer with SCS, Paul will receive field training in agronomy, range management, engineering, biology, and soil science.

Enjoy a 6-minute call to New York and you could say all this for just $1.51

"Hello?" "Hi Marge, this is Suzie!" "Suzie, Suzie, Suzie! What a pleasant surprise!" "How are ya?" "I'm doing just fine. How are things with you?" "Oh, things are terrific around here since you left!" "I'll bet. You know I miss you guys." "How do you like your new house?" "Oh, Suzie, it's terrific!" "Did you get what you wanted?" "That and more!" "Well?" "Well what?" "Tell me about your stupid new house." "Suzie, it's fabulous!" "Did you get the big back yard you wanted?" "Three acres with a pond." "Do you have a garden?" "We have a greenhouse!" "Do you have a nice kitchen?" "A huge kitchen with all new appliances!" "Do you have some aspirin?" "Aspirin?" "Yeah, you're making me sick." "You should complain. You're not exactly living in a dump!" "How does Fred like his new job?" "Suzie, he's a new man." "He likes it?" "He loves it. Absolutely loves it." "That's good." "How is Jack?" "Fine. He's going through a do-it-yourself phase right now." "Oh, good." "Everytime I ask him to do something, he yells 'Do it yourself!' "Oh, not good." "When are you coming to visit us?" "When are you going to invite us?" "You know you have a standing invitation." "Yeah, but we'd rather sit." "I'm serious. When are you coming?" "Name a date." "How about in a few weeks... say the week of the 29th?" "Wait a minute, let me get my calendar... the 29th?" "That's a Saturday." "Yeah. Sounds good." "Okay, it's a deal. We'll be expecting you." "What do you want us to bring?" "Just your sense of humor." "No." "No." "Just kidding." "Funny." "You missed a great party at the Smiths' last night." "They had a party? They never have parties." "They've been waiting for you to move away." "What happened?" "Well, for starters, Jackie's dog ate the main course before any of the guests arrived." "You're kidding." "No. Then the air conditioning went on the blink." "No wonder they never had any parties. What did everyone do?" "We starved and perspired a lot." "Sounds awful." "Speaking of starving, how's the old diet?" "I'll tell you if you tell me." "125." "Oh, Susan! You've been cheating!" "No I haven't." "Well how can you lose weight if you've been eating?" "How about you?" "I'm not telling." "Come on." "One fivie five." "What?" "One fivie five." "Marge, you're mumbling." "One fivie five." "One forty five?" "Less." "One thirty five?" "See, that's not so bad." "That's terrible." "I know." "What's your excuse?" "A perfectly understandable insecurity resulting from having to adapt to new surroundings." "New surroundings." The only new surroundings you're gonna have to adapt to is the lard surrounding your midsection." "Hey, look. Go easy kid. I don't have you to nag me any more." "Well, it hasn't been easy for me either." "You wouldn't believe the food prices here." "Oh?" "Low." "Low?" "No wonder you're eating so much." "I'm not kidding." "Neither am I." "I'm saving about 15 dollars a week over what I used to pay." "You're kidding!" "I'm not kidding." "Sounds like you got a raise, too." "Right. 15 dollars to blow on anything I like... toilet paper, floor wax and soap." "Don't forget laundry detergent." "Right." "Hey, you took something of mine when you left." "Your yellow sweater." "Did you take my sweater?" "Sorry, I wasn't going to tell you." "That's okay. You keep my sweater and I'll keep your skirt." "Skirt?" "You know, the one with all the animals on it?" "Oh, yeah. I'd forgotten about that." "Is it a deal?" "We'll trade when you come to visit." "Sour puss. I'm sorry I even brought the subject up." "What were you going to say?" "I was going to say that you took my Suzie Fu Yung recipe." "Did I?" "Yes." "I'll give you that too when you come." "Good." "See? Just think of all the nice things awaiting you when you come." "I can't wait. Hey, I have something for you." "What?" "A riddle." "Shoot." "What has four holder-uppers, four puller-downers, a pair of lookers, and a swishy-wishy?" "I don't know, what?" "I'll tell you when we come to visit." "Oh, no you don't!" "Bye." "Come on, tell me!" "Bye." "Suzie!"

A 6-minute call to New York dialed the One-Plus way (5 p.m. to 11 p.m., Monday through Friday) costs just $1.51 plus tax. So pick up the phone and enjoy. You can say such a lot—for such a little.

Miss Fontaine To Star At Country Playhouse

"Blithe Spirit," starring the ever-vivacious Joan Fontaine, is the comedy farce about a man with the ghosts of two wives haunting him which opens at the Country Dinner Playhouse May 25.

A variation on the "eternal triangle," Coward's plot spoofs the supernatural whose ghosts are highly agreeable creatures.

The comfortable domestic existence of novelist Charles Condomine (played by Peter Pagan) is thrown into an uproar when the ghost of his late departed wife, Elvira, (impish Joan Fontaine), is conjured up by a meddling medium. Still lovely and still mischievous she torments Charles with reminders of their days and nights together. The possessive type, Elvira schemes to snatch Condomine away from his second wife and take him back with her to the beyond. She arranges a fatal automobile accident, but something goes amiss and Ruth, the second wife, becomes the victim and passes into the next world.

The bewildered astral bigamist then is beset with the ghosts of two squabbling departed wives. He manages to extricate himself from the two very blithe spirits in what is one of the most hilariously funny plays to come to the Playhouse.

The pre-show entertainment, featuring the lively singing and dancing of an all new Heymaker cast, includes high-stepping marches, pop tunes, progressive western, and toe-tapping Broadway songs.

For your reservation or special group discount information, call the Country Dinner Playhouse 512-836-5921. "Blithe Spirit" will be showing nightly, except Monday, at 8:15 p.m. and at 1:30 p.m., Sunday matinee from May 25 through June 27.

Reducing plan for energy users

Plan E How to save electricity when using air conditioning

Central Systems

1. Set thermostat on 78° or higher during the summer. Turn unit off if you'll be away from home several days.
2. Keep equipment at top operating efficiency. Have it checked seasonally by qualified serviceman.
3. Check filter every 30 days. Dirty filters cause equipment to use excessive electricity. If filter is permanent, clean by manufacturer's directions; if it's disposable, it should be replaced when dirty.
4. Keep furniture, draperies away from air outlets and returns. Clean grills often.
5. Close draperies and blinds to keep out direct sunlight.
6. Keep fireplace damper closed.
7. Proper home insulation keeps the heat out, cuts energy use. Insulation questions? Call TP&L.
8. Shade on roof and walls can reduce energy needed to cool. But trim trees, shrubs away from outside compressor unit. Keep it free of leaves, debris. If air flow is blocked, unit uses more energy.
9. Weatherstrip doors and windows; caulk cracks to prevent drafts and cool air loss.
10. Keep windows closed. Open outside doors as little as possible.
11. Buy units with highest "energy efficiency ratio" (EER). Uses less electricity to cool. If EER is not on sales tag, ask for it or figure it yourself. Divide "wattage" into "BTU" capacity. Both figures are on unit.

12. Place unit where it'll get as little direct sun as possible.
13. Aim air outlets at lower half of doorway to next room to allow warm air from that room to enter at the doorway for recirculation.
14. Never vent air conditioner into garage. Ventilation is usually too poor for top performance of your unit.

Conserve electricity and you help conserve one or more of the fuels needed to produce it: natural gas, coal and oil. Conserve fuels and you help assure that there will be enough to meet essential needs for electricity in the future.

When you pass a TP&L office, warehouse, generating plant or other facility, you'll see that we've turned off all non-essential lighting. And, in as many other ways as possible, TP&L is reducing its own uses of electricity.

If you would like additional information on conserving electricity, call or see the Customer Service Representative in the TP&L Office.

HORSE LAUNCHES rider at a Montana exhibit and auction for rodeo stock contractors. Spirited animals are prized on the rodeo circuit. Rodeos held in the United States and Canada last year drew thousands of contestants and millions of spectators.

By William Albert Allard © National Geographic

Money Heals Bruises On The Rodeo Circuit

Modern rodeos began as rough-and-ready contests between rival cowboys. Winning then eased the pain. Now rodeos are a multi-million dollar business, and money heals the bruises.

Many of the events can lead to black eyes, bruises, broken ribs, sprained knees, dislocated shoulders, and worse. But hundreds of men and women saddle up each year to hit the rodeo trail, a trail that has become increasingly lucrative and popular, the National Geographic Society says.

Some 11 million people stampeded the arenas last year to attend nearly 600 approved professional rodeos in 42 states in the United States and four provinces of Canada. Contestants battle for $6,000,000 in prize money, according to the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association.

Saddle-bronc riding is considered the classic event. "You need coordination, balance, timing," explains a circuit veteran. "Now bull riding--while it looks tougher--is easier to qualify in; a guy might come out of a city and ride bulls. Roping is just a matter of skill."

Another old-timer put it a different way. "Ride a bronc? You just fall into the rhythm and it's like dancing with a girl. But you've got to know your business. If not, you'll either pop your gizzard or eat dirt."

The word "rodeo" stems from the Spanish word for roundup. Historians document great 16th century Mexican rodeos when "more than 300 horsemen belonging to all the cattle barons" would converge to brand calves. A herd of 20,000 animals was considered paltry.

and Santa Fe, New Mexico. Soon cowboys and would-be cowboys all over the country were, in the words of one range sage, being given a "fine chance to tudyhoss enatimy from under andover."

Early Wild West shows like those organized by Buffalo Bill Cody added to the popularity of the sport. City slickers sometimes got more thrills than they bargained for.

The ancient Egyptians deified rats.

Herald Sports Drivers Compete In 'Texas 500'

COLLEGE STATION More than half a dozen Texans are expected to compete in the 4th renewal of the "Texas 500" at Texas World Speedway Sunday, June 6. Entries from the Lone Star State include 3-time Indy 500 winner and 6-time National Champion A. J. Foyt of Houston, 1974 Indy winner and 1976 fastest qualifier at Indianapolis Johnny Rutherford of Fort Worth.

Taking on Foyt and Rutherford are fellow Texans H. B. Bailey of Houston, Tom Williams of San Antonio, Martha Wideman of Lufkin, and John Haver of Columbus.

Bailey, a veteran stock car driver has competed on all of the major super speedways of the country from Daytona to Pocono to Ontario, California. H. B. is building a Pontiac especially for the high banks of Texas World Speedway. Williams, a native newcomer to super speedway competition started racing in 1970 working up through the ranks compiling a total of better than 70 victories.

Mrs. Wideman, the mother of 2 teenagers, has been racing since 1964 on both dirt and asphalt gathering in a total of 45 wins. After testing the world's fastest speedway, Martha says she can hardly wait till June 6. Haver has raced at Meyer Speedway in Houston, Shreveport, Baton Rouge, and at Atlanta Talledega and Ontario. He plans on fielding a '76 Chevrolet for the 500 at Texas World Speedway.

Speedway management wants all Texas drivers to know of the opportunity to compete. Questions regarding car eligibility requirements can be answered by Bob Stroud, supervisor Stock Car Division, United States Auto Club, 317-247-5151.

The Speedway has scheduled an open practice for Texas drivers on Wednesday, May 26 to allow drivers to get more super speedway practice and get their cars race ready.

Activities at the world's fastest speedway commence with a practice session and open house Friday, June 4, qualifications for the starting field Saturday afternoon and pre-race festivities on race day Sunday, June 6 at 11 a.m. The green flag falls on the starting field of 40 cars Sunday, June 6 at 1 p.m.

Tickets for the Texas 500 are priced at $20 for deluxe reserved seat, $15 for reserved, $10 unreserved grandstand, and $5 infield. Children 6-12 years $5 in unreserved seats and $2 infield.

Purchasers of advance race tickets will be admitted free to practice and qualifying on Friday and Saturday, June 4 and 5. For the camper infield sites will be open at 7 Saturday morning with special entertainment planned for the infield race goer Saturday night.

Wardens File On Boaters For Life Jacket Violations

Failure to have the proper number of life preservers on board accounted for most water safety citations issued by Texas Parks and Wildlife Department game wardens in April.

As of April 30, P&WD wardens had issued 727 citations for water safety violations, a 66 percent increase over April 1975. A total of 494 citations were to boat operators who failed to have the proper number of personal flotation devices of PFDs in their vessels and 46 tickets were given because passengers under 12 years of age were not wearing their life preservers.

Parks and Wildlife Department water safety officials say there are four types of PFDs which are certified as Coast Guard-approved and acceptable under Texas law. A Type I PFD is an approved vest or jacket-type device which is designed to turn an unconscious person in the water from a face-downward position to a vertical or slightly backward position, and to have more than 20 pounds of buoyancy. A Type II PFD also is a vest or jacket designed to turn an unconscious person to a vertical or slightly backward position in the water, but is designed to have at least 15 1/2 pounds of buoyancy.

A Type III PFD, also a vest or jacket-type device, is designed to keep a conscious person in a vertical position and to have at least 15 1/2 pounds of buoyancy. While having the same buoyancy as a Type II, A Type III PFD has a lesser turning ability to allow for a comfortable design for water activities such as skiing.

A Type IV PFD is a ring buoy or a buoyant cushion designed to be thrown to a person in the water and not worn. It must have at least 16 1/2 pounds of buoyancy. All PFDs must carry a tag certifying that the device is Coast Guard-approved.

The law requires that all motorboats regardless of size must have at least one Coast Guard approved PFD for each person on board. However, the type of PFD required differs with the size of the boat.

Motorboats of 16 feet or less may use any of the four types of PFDs available. A life jacket, buoyant vest, ring buoy, or buoyant cushion is acceptable. Motorboats longer than 16 feet must have one Type I, II, OR III for each person aboard. In addition, federal law requires a Type IV PFD on board and immediately available for use. All PFDs must be in serviceable condition and readily feet long or less must wear an approved vest or jacket. Type PFD whenever the boat is underway. Although Texas law does not require a water skier to wear a PFD, a skier is considered a passenger in the boat and there must be a PFD for him on board.

Passengers under 12 years of age in motorboats 26

For more information on required equipment and boating laws, write the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, John H. Reagan Building, Austin 78701 for a free copy of the Digest of the Texas Water Safety Act.

Methodists Hold Annual Conference

HOUSTON — Nearly one quarter million United Methodist members are represented in the Texas Annual Conference which began Monday at First United Methodist Church. This is the first of seven annual meetings of the denomination in Texas and New Mexico over the next three weeks.

Opening with Holy Communion in the downtown church at 11 a.m., the first business session was scheduled for 2 p.m. which includes a report on 32 candidates applying for ministerial membership in the conference.

Bishop Paul V. Galloway, resident Bishop of the Houston Area completing the term of office for the late Kenneth W. Copeland, was recognized on Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock for his leadership over the past three years.

Bishop Galloway was retired in 1972 from the Arkansas Area of the United Methodist Church, but was appointed from retirement to serve the Houston Area following the sudden death of Bishop Copeland. He will retire, for the second time, in July at the South Central Jurisdictional Conference in Lincoln, Neb.

Bishop William R. Cannon, Atlanta, was preacher for the four-day conference which closed Thursday with the reading of the pastoral appointments for 1976-77.

Waldron said 30,000 delegates are anticipated to attend the annual convention planned for the Texas Stadium. A good-sized group of local Witnesses will represent Cameron at the seminar.

Waldron said the theme of the conference is "Sacred Service," and he added that the program will address itself to improving life spiritually within the family circle.

"There will be specific information for husbands, wives, and young people," Waldron explained, "designed to examine the problems confronting society today and suggesting concrete solutions to overcome them."

Waldron added that the program will feature Bible lectures, symposiums, discussion periods, and four Bible dramas to be presented in full costume.

A baptismal service will be one of the highlights of the meeting on Friday, June 11.

The principal discourse of the convention will discuss the question, "Will Serving God Solve Your Problems?" It is scheduled for Sunday, June 13 at 2 p.m.

Ninety-four such conventions are arranged for the summer of 1976 in the United States.

Along the Potomac River ... close to the Pennsylvania border ... and near Washington, D.C., our nation's capital ...

It's fun to look at the whole world, and then put your finger on the place where YOU live. It makes you realize how important you are!

During this Bicentennial year we know that EVERYBODY in our nation is important. People can own land and houses and tractors. They can read the truth. They can think for themselves, and say what they think. They can assemble together to celebrate, or plan — or protest.

And they can worship God ... in the church they choose ... and bring their children ... and support their church ... and volunteer their talents in its work. Nobody can padlock God's House — or turn it into a museum!

Here's where I live. THANK GOD! We thank Him best by using ALL our freedoms ...

TEXAS 1876
DALLAS—The editor of the Dallas "Commercial" broke a cane over the head of the editor of the "Herald", and punched him in the face with the broken end of it. The "Herald" editor was armed with brass knuckles, with which he inflicted two slight wounds on his opponent's head. Neither was seriously injured. The affair grew out of an article in yesterday's "Herald" reflecting on the other editor's character, and to which he took exception.

SAN ANTONIO—The inmates of the poor house are cared for as well as circumstances will admit. There are 42 persons at this home of the poor and unfortunate.

We wish to express our thanks and appreciation to all our friends and relatives for the many acts of kindness extended to us during the illness and death of our father and brother, Fred Beckhusen. We would especially like to thank the doctors and nurses who cared for him while he was ill, and the staff at Heritage House for their assistance and care while he was there. May God's richest blessings be yours.

Special thanks to Dr. Richardson and his staff, St. Edward Hospital, Sisters and their staff, Dr. Perrin, Rev. Homerstad, Marek-Burns-Laywell Funeral Home, and everyone else. May God bless all of you.

Special thanks to Dr. Richardson and Sister Benedicte for your wonderful concern and care during my recent stay in the hospital. Thanks also to Dr. Perrin for looking in on me while Dr. Richardson was away.

I gratefully appreciate the flowers, gifts, cards, and visits, and especially the intercessory prayers offered in my behalf while there. From the bottom of my heart my thanks to every Sister, nurse, and helper for every attention shown me and may our great God continue to shower his blessings on each of you as you go about your dedicated service here in our own St. Edward Hospital.
Gratefully,
Mrs. Mary P. Houston

Decks Adapt To Home Uses

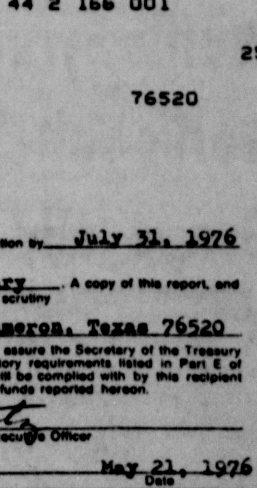

Wood decks can be built in many different ways, to solve landscaping or outdoor living problems, or add to the aesthetics of the house and yard.

Likewise, decks can be built of several species of lumber, including western cedar, western pine, Douglas fir and hemlock (the last two often graded together and sold as hem-fir).

A booklet containing construction details for raised, parquet and hexagonal decks is available for 25 cents in coin from Western Wood Products Assn., Dept. 513-P, Yeon Bldg., Portland, Or 97204.
